

Another artistic performance.

It took vision to transform a historic high school into a 1,900-seat Great Hall, a Visual Arts Center with five major galleries, a Science Discovery Center that showcases three floors of exhibit space and a large-format domed theater. The Washington Pavilion in Sioux Falls, South Dakota is an example of how vision can be sculpted into reality and is a lasting testament to the arts and sciences in our region. We're proud to have been a part of such a magnificent performance.

ARTISTIC VISION. One more example of our 360-degree approach to design, and another reason we're the region's most respected architectural firm.
